

UK managing director announcement

After more than five years as managing director of IRESS' business in the United Kingdom, Simon Badley will step down from his role and leave IRESS at the end of June 2019.

IRESS chief executive, Andrew Walsh, said: "I thank Simon for his dedication to IRESS over many years. He played a pivotal role in IRESS' successful 2013 acquisition of Avelo, where he was chief executive. He leaves IRESS and our United Kingdom business in a strong position for continued growth.

"As we move into the next phase of growth, Simon has decided now is the right time for him to leave IRESS.

"Simon's replacement will be made after consideration of internal and external candidates. In the meantime, Simon will continue in his role until the end of June."

Mr Badley said: "It has been a privilege to lead IRESS in the United Kingdom during a period of significant growth for the company.

"I am proud of the strong position IRESS has in the United Kingdom and I wish IRESS and its people all the best for the future."
